

Rutland section of the stand

Products filled the shelving

Zareba section of stand with gate demo area

Graphics provided at size by the customer helped with the small budget

Rutland/Zareba electric fencing required us to come up with a design for a stand using existing shelving units for their products. Storage area was also required and a demonstration area for an electric gate, combined with the small size of the stand this was achieved on budget delivered and erected in Hanover, Germany.